FOREWORD

Your 1944 Sequelle isn't all we wanted it to be; but we hope you will overlook its shortcomings and accept it for what it is—a symbol—a memory.

This is our memory of the school we loved

And classes we met

Of people we knew

And fun we had

Yes--this is

OUR PRESIDENT

PAUL G. CHANDLER

The President's Message . . .

The senior class is to be congratulated on publishing a SEQUELLE this year. Photographers do not have enough films to take care of their trade and none of them returned their bid blanks. We were fortunate to have a member of the faculty who could do photographic work. There is a shortage of paper and there is a shortage of skilled labor. It will be interesting to see how many college annuals are published this year. The resourcefulness you have shown in publishing your yearbook will contribute to the success of each one of you. I shall follow each of you in your positions with interest, and I expect to find each one showing the same resourcefulness in your teaching that you have shown in publishing your year book.

THE JUNIOR CLASS . . .

The juniors, like every class, believe that their members are "getting to be somebody!" The freshmen, are the people at whom everyone looks—the belles of the campus; by the time they become sophomores they just sit on the sidelines, attracting very little attention, the juniors, however, are beginning to command respect; and of course the seniors are far superior to all other classes. Seriously, though, the juniors really have already established themselves securely. The junior basketball team has proven itself champion. The Clarion Call has been most successful under its junior editor. Who's Who has two representatives from the junior class; Pi Gamma Mu has several. You will find hard-working, fun-loving juniors leading in every college activity. Scattered all over the world are former members of the class, who took "the khaki and the gun instead of cap and gown." Some of our members have speeded ahead and are now seniors. We'll miss them next year, but we'll be proud to see them at graduation among the ranks of those who will commence the new life in the great profession for which they have spent the past four years preparing.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS . . .

The good old sophomore class hasn't been active as a group, but we certainly have gone places individually. We are organized having a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer; but the time hasn't arrived when we need to function. We have, as you can easily guess, the Boy Scout Motto behind us "Be Prepared."

When we came to Clarion as freshmen, no one could say we weren't any greener than green—for the outlandish things we innocently did brought many a laugh to upper-classmen. We learned the hard way, of course—but with loads of fun and adventures sprinkled in memories. We made our friends and gradually throughout the year found our places in C. S. T. C.

Thus the sophomore class speaks—but don't forget you'll be hearing about us in the headlines.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS . . .

September 13 found many bewildered freshmen walking around the campus wondering what would happen to them. That problem soon solved itself when Mr. Becker herded us into Seminary Hall to start the famed freshmen tests. Tests over, classes began; and we knew that our college career had started.

Our life was quite uneventful until Freshmen Week rolled around. Huge signs, blackened noses, and pigtailed broadcast to everyone that we were the new freshmen. This week proved to be very amusing to everyone except to us. After the harrowing experiences of initiation, we settled down to business and had our first class meeting. With Miss Stoke as class advisor we elected our officers and became acquainted with each other.

Next came Rush Week, bringing to the girls invitations to rush parties of the various sororities.

Thanksgiving vacation at last, and home, for many of us the first time since our arrival at college. The three weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations seemed endless, but was climaxed with the formal Christmas dance in the gym.

Our spirits were high after vacation, but they were soon dampened by the thoughts of the oncoming semester exams. With the new semester came new freshmen to be added to our ranks.

Intramural basketball, tobogganing, and hiking took up many of our evenings during the second semester.

With final exams and Commencement we had at last reached our first goal in college life—the completion of our first year.

PAN-HELLENIC

Sorority affairs come under the jurisdiction of the Pan-Hellenic council. Each of the five sororities are represented by two members, all of whom composed Pan-Hellenic council. These members plan Pan-Hellenic activities, and decide upon sorority matters.

The annual Pan-Hellenic tea for non-sorority girls was held in the Coffee Shop early in the fall. The sorority girls celebrated Valentine Day with a party at the gym.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

For the beginning of the Delta Sig activities it is necessary to go back to the rush party, which was in a military theme starting with invitations written as draft notices enclosed in "bomb" of painted walnut shells, and ending with a skit satirizing life on the campus with the cadets so much in evidence. As a result Martha Mohny, Jean Wick, Pearl Weigand, Veronica Motter, Maxine Summerville, Betty Finerty, Catherine Brooks, and Kathryn Moore were pledged to the sorority in December.

One of the most enjoyable events of the year was the "dessert" that the sponsor, Dr. Leifeste, Mrs. Sloan, and Mrs. Davis gave at the Coffee Shop as a Christmas present to the girls. It was followed by the annual Christmas party before the fire place at Mrs. Sloan's home. Those who went tobogganing and bowling with the group will never forget the fun.

But it wasn't all play! Who can forget the salvage drive and the counting, sorting, and sending of materials to the therapy hospital sponsored by Delta Sigma Epsilon Sorority. Then too, the girls were for two weeks at the local theaters, taking charge of the selling of bonds for the fourth war loan drive.

LAMBDA CHI DELTA

The Lambda Chi's went fishing on their rush party. Seashells, mermaids, and fish of all descriptions furnished the decorations for a dinner held at Nail's Restaurant. Ann Shipley, Marjorie Clover, Helen Ferry, Nancy Smathers, and Marilyn Lobaugh were pledged and later initiated.

Following several bowling parties the girls gathered at Flack's for special "feeds." The new members became better acquainted with their patronesses at a St. Valentine tea held in the Coffee Shop. Throughout the year the Lambda Chi's did miscellaneous typing for the Red Cross and helped to raise money to provide "Service Kits" for the boys overseas.

SIGMA DELTA PHI

War has seriously affected the numbers of this sorority. Some of the sisters are working in war factories; others are teaching on emergency certificates. This world crisis has had a great effect upon our activities, too; we have volunteered our services to the Red Cross. We have done our bit in social service work by making scrap books to send to orphanages and children's homes. Our efforts to keep the alumnae in close association with the college have led to faithful correspondence with them. With all this, we have had recreation for ourselves and have broadened our social life through learning new and entertaining games.

At the meetings during the second semester the programs included interesting subjects and worthwhile discussions of special value to the life of the college girls.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The biggest event of the Tri Sigma year was the visit of Mrs. Carson, National Social Service Chairman. She was entertained with the members at a dinner given by Miss Gamble.

The rush party, held in the Training School, consisted of square dancing and games. Afterwards the group went to the Coffee Shop for lunch and singing. The following were pledged: Mary Jane Shoemaker, Edith Gunderman, Dorothy Dryden, Doris Nulph, Norma Bloom, and Gertrude Lobaugh.

Sigma Sigma Sigma sororities, located all over the United States, worked out a project to create friendly relations between the young people of Pan America and those of the United States. The local chapter sent articles to represent this section of Pennsylvania. As another part of its work the sorority last fall conducted a most successful rummage sale.

THETA ALPHA LAMBDA

During the first semester the Theta Alpha Lambda made two scrap books: one for the soldiers at Deshon, the other for the Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. For their own use they made shelves for their dishes. The second semester saw them repairing toys and knitting for the Red Cross.

Social functions were numerous and varied—parties, dinners, shows, and informal get-togethers. These were sponsored by Miss Weismantel, Mrs. Cordier, Mrs. Elliot, and Mrs. Hoyt.

The rush season was celebrated by a theater party followed by refreshments at the Coffee Shop. Evelyn Reaghart, Jean Williams, and Helen Webster were pledged and initiated.

WHO'S WHO

Eight students of Clarion State Teachers' College were listed in the 1943-44 issue of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This number consists of six senior representatives: Jean Williams, Teresa Kennedy, Alice Guseman, Florence Traister, Evelyn Reaghart, and Margaret Moore; two junior representatives: Evelyn Rupert, and Kathryn Copeland.

This book is published through the cooperation of over six thousand American Universities and Colleges as a means of national recognition for graduates. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudiced committee, for their biographies to appear in "Who's Who."

The purpose of "Who's Who" is to serve as an incentive for students, as a means of compensation for what they have already done, as a recommendation to the business world, and as a standard of measurement for students.

STUDENT SENATE

The purpose of the Student Senate, the student governing organization on campus, is to promote student responsibility, increase student-faculty cooperation, and enrich college life. Twelve members elected annually consist of three women resident students, three men resident students, and three men day students.

A few of the committees made up of Senate and faculty members are: the social committee (which arranges the social calendar), the chapel committee (which recommends and selects lectures and entertainments), and the financial committee (which budgets the Student Cooperative Fund).

The Senate of this year has had the singular task of serving the student body in one of the most difficult periods of its history— a period in which the effects of war have been felt in many of the activities and programs which this governing body has helped to carry out.

WOMEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL

The Women's Student Council is the representative body of Egbert Hall. It consists of two members from each class and the dean of women, who together try to solve the inevitable problems which arise in the girls' dormitory. Such factors as a small dormitory filled to capacity, the presence of the army personnel on the campus, and other effects of a world crisis, have added greatly to the responsibilities of this organization.

The first social function of the house was a get-acquainted party for the freshmen. The annual Christmas tea was held, but, as a patriotic note, the accustomed formal attire was omitted.

SEQUELLE STAFF

Are you enjoying the Sequelle? It doesn't seem probable that you would have found the first, the second, or perhaps even the third draft of this book very interesting, but now that it has been presented to you, you'll find hours of work contained between its covers; making assignments, correcting copy, taking and retaking pictures, and all that goes with such a publication, and it is the sincere hope of the Sequelle Staff that it reaches your expectations. Like "the man behind the man behind the gun" there are numerous helpers unnamed, but the following make up the staff heads:

Editor .....	JEAN WILLIAMS
Associate Editor .....	TERESA KENNEDY
Business Manager .....	PHYLLIS TIMLIN
Literary .....	ARLINE KELLETT
Photography .....	EVELYN REAGHART

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu is a national honorary social studies fraternity. To be admitted one must have a B average and at least twenty hours in the social studies field.

During January Pi Gamma Mu held initiation in the lounge of Egbert hall, at which time the following students were admitted to the society: Teresa Kennedy, Lois George, Florence Traister, Kathryn Bole, Mary Slike, Laird McCanna, Kathryn Copeland, Constance Kanski, Marian Shockey, Lois Stroupe, Marjorie McClain, and Ann Mocek.

Regular meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month. This year the fraternity has discussed plans for the organization of junior historical societies. Several social gatherings were enjoyed by the members, the outstanding event of which was an enjoyable evening spent at the home of Dr. Cordier.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

"My argument is this . . ." and so one of the twenty-seven members of the International Relations Club begins his presentation of views, interpretations and opinions concerning world affairs to fellow students. This argument, whether defeated, or enlarged upon, represents the privilege of each member to partake in the discussion every second Tuesday evening.

Interest this year was centered upon the war effort of the allied nations and its effect upon both the enemy and the home front. Consideration of the subject "World Peace" proved most interesting. The necessity, principles, problems, and possibilities of a lasting world peace were carefully weighed. All students are welcomed to I. R. C., particularly those interested in social studies.

PRESS CLUB

The major aim of this organization is to publish an issue of the "Call" every month. It also endeavors to give the members some practical training in journalism which will aid them later in directing the publication of school papers. This is accomplished by the study of other school publications. Practice in writing is also given, and other newspaper articles are studied.

This year each member of the club will be presented a Press Club pin as a badge of membership.

The main social event of the year was the Press Club party which was given jointly with the members of the Art Club, and which this year took place in the Coffee Shop on St. Patrick's Day.

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

Traveling on a magic carpet woven of imagination, the members of the Geography Club traveled to India, to Washington and Oregon, and to the seacoast to watch the tides come in.

The trip to India was made under the direction of Mrs. Becker, guest speaker at one of the meetings. Maps, costumes, jewelry, letters, pictures, and other articles of interest aided in bringing reality into the club room.

The geographers were led to Washington and Oregon by Evelyn Rupert, who discussed pictures as they were shown on the screen. The trip to the seacoast was a movie on tides. Mr. Kuhner entertained at a meeting by presenting a talk on weather, proving to all members that little is really known about this common topic of conversation.

Other activities of the year included a visit to the local Coca-Cola plant, and the observing and recording of weather conditions at the campus weather station.

OUTDOOR GIRLS

The outdoor club was this year an all girl organization, and therefore renamed the "Outdoor Girls." The club's main functions included sending the "Call" to our men and women in service, keeping a scrapbook of their pictures and most interesting letters, and sending to them birthday cards and letters telling of the whereabouts and welfare of former college friends.

Several evenings were spent in tobogganing and bowling, after which the club usually went to Mr. Manson's to enjoy eating in front of the fireplace. Though missing the male members, the club had a most enjoyable and successful year.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

Every College Player believes that "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." Each person performs his assigned role to the best of his ability as he works for the good of the club.

The curtain has fallen on the activities of the college players for 1943-44. Some of the outstanding events were the presentation of the play "Time for Romance", reading and discussing facts which are valuable to every actor, a radio quiz, and an illustrated talk on make up and costuming. The members enjoyed many inspirational talks given by Miss Marwick, the club's adviser. One of the most beneficial was "Sound Effects in Play Production."

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The Association for Childhood Education is a student branch of the National Association for Childhood Education. Its membership is composed of teachers and students interested in kindergarten, primary, or intermediate work.

During the year the club aims to gather and disseminate knowledge of the movement for the education for young children; to bring into active cooperation all childhood education interests, including parent education; to promote the progressive type of education in nursery school, kindergarten, and primary grades; and to raise the standard of professional training for teachers.

The club's activities included a picnic at Wilson Woods with freshman girls as guests, a panel discussion, a book display, a Christmas party at Dr. Leifeste's apartment, and several outside speakers.

HOSTESS CLUB

The work of the Hostess Club dealt largely with discussing and learning the fundamental principles of etiquette.

During the programs of the year problems of immediate interest to college girls were discussed, and many rules of social conduct were practiced. The members also learned the all important art of being gracious.

Among the many activities of the club, the most notable were: a window display during Book Week, parties, a tea for both the senior class and the faculty, and the decorating of the Egbert Hall lounge for the Christmas season.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association is to "unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God . . . to have a part in making this life possible for all people, and in this task to seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

During the year the organization met every other Wednesday evening to discuss problems which are vital to youth today. The meetings were planned and conducted by various members of the "Y" and included discussion meetings, song services, and two excellent lectures by prominent national workers in the Y. W. C. A.

The following officers were elected during the second semester for the coming year:

President.....	EVELYN RUPERT
Vice-President.....	GEVIENNE SMITH
Recording Secretary.....	MARY SEIFERT

ART CLUB

The Art Club began its activities this year by designing and making brightly colored baby slippers which were donated to the Greek War Relief Society. During the Christmas season, the club with additional members from the Art Department made 1350 cards of 5 different types. For the most part these cards were sent or given to men in the service. In the spring 300 Easter greeting cards were designed and painted for our Alumni in the armed forces, and special birthday cards were made for the same purpose by both the Art Club and the Out Door Club. In December an informal "get-to-gether" was held at the Coffee Shop, and on St. Patrick's Day the Art and Press Clubs had their joint party, which as usual was a very jolly and happy affair. The acquisition of bronze Art Club pins brought joy and pride to all members who received them, and was one of the real satisfactions enjoyed during the year.

CAMERA CLUB

Camera Club members, whether they are experienced photographers or not, always look forward to their meeting. If they lack experience, they are sure to learn something new. Those who know all about developing films and making contact prints and enlargements are always eager to see how well that last film turned out, or see what good enlargements they can make.

The Classical Club was organized to show the members the practical value of the Latin language in modern living. The activities of the club developed appreciation and understanding of the Roman government, literature, and art, in addition to revealing a picture of the private life of the Romans. This organization is made up of students majoring, or especially interested, in Latin. A tea at the home of Miss Nair was the main social event of the year.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Women's Athletic Council was one of the most outstanding organizations on campus this year, because the war has eliminated men's athletics here at C.S.T.C.. It drew up the rules of the tournaments and elected the members of the various varsities. The W.A.C. enjoyed a well rounded social life, too. On February 18 Miss Spaller entertained at an informal party in the gym. On the weekend of March 4 all members had an exciting time at Cooks Forest, where they enjoyed a week of camping and the beauties of the surrounding vicinity.

SPEEDBALL VARSITY

Weather conditions this year prolonged the speedball season and necessitated the elimination of the hockey games which usually follow speedball. Consequently all the enthusiasm of both these intramural sports was packed into an exciting speedball tournament.

The Juniors emerged victorious from a hard fought campaign, and were declared the school champions. At the conclusion of the season the following varsity was selected from the best players of each of the four teams:

Velma Burns, Kathleen Stewart, Verne Cuthbert, Gertrude Lobaugh, Elizabeth Boward, Ruth Kane, Mary Carr, Mary Burns, Martha Mohney, Helen Ferry, and Doris Nulph.

P. Showers, K. Bole, V. Matter, B. Hugus, D. Dryden, D. Nulph, M. Seifert, T. Allison, B. Heasley, M. Hess.

GIRLS' CHORUS

During previous years Clarion State Teachers College has had an A Capella Choir as well as a Girls' Chorus, but this year, due to the shortage of men at Clarion as everywhere else, the girls have had to carry on alone.

As a result of the gasoline problem, the concert tours were curtailed, but several programs were given at Clarion. The first appearance of the year was at the Clarion Methodist Church. Several weeks later the Chorus presented a chapel program, which was broadcast over the DuBois station.

ENSEMBLE

The ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Walter Hart, has been outstanding among the C.S.T.C. activities this year. It has given several stage performances in local and surrounding churches and schools and has appeared for performances in Salem, Tionesta, and Rocky Grove.

A part of this organization, the Girls' Trio, composed of Kathryn Bole, Marion Shockey, Pauline Miles, and accompanied by Doris Caskey added to the success of a bond drive at Punxsutawney, February 1, where they broadcasted several selections over radio station W.C.E.D.

At the Du Bois bond drive held February 15, Jean Wick, piano soloist, and Marigrace Hutchinson, vocal soloist, joined the trio in broadcasting. This broadcast consisted of many patriotic renditions.
